

PRESERVING MARINE ECOSYSTEMS FOR A MORE SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

The Blue Economy Strategy

OPPORTUNITIES

The ocean provides food security and contributes to health and habitats preservation and to coastal protection.

As an important source of jobs, the maritime industry is a major pillar of our globalised economies.

The ocean captures almost 30% of the CO₂ emitted by human activities and thus plays a key role in combating climate change.

The strategy offers solutions around five ocean biodiversity-related investment themes:
energy and resources, pollution reduction, marine species, shipping and coastal life.

THE STRATEGY SUPPORTS 4 SDGS*:

KEY STRENGTHS

Global equity exposure

Companies engaged in the sustainable use of ocean resources

Long term growth potential

*Sustainable Development Goals from the United Nations

LIST OF RISKS:

Risk of capital loss: The value of investments and the income they generate may go down as well as up and it is possible that investors will not recover their initial outlay. Past performance or achievement is not indicative of current or future performance.

Liquidity risk: This risk arises from the difficulty of selling an asset at a fair market price and at a desired time due to a lack of buyers.

Operational and Custody Risk: Some markets are less regulated than most international markets. As a result, services related to custody or liquidation of the Subfund in these markets could be more risky.
