BGL celebrates Belgium's national holiday with waffles for Belgian cross-border commuters

On Tuesday, 21 July 2009, BGL celebrated Belgium's national holiday by distributing waffles to Belgian cross-border commuters departing from the Arlon and Libramont train stations between 7.00 and 8.30 a.m.

The initiative underscores BGL's role as banking partner for cross-border workers — in this case, Belgian citizens who are leaving their national holiday behind to work at their jobs in Luxembourg. It follows a similar celebration targeting French cross-border commuters on Bastille Day (July 14).
